

Cooking Supplies

Category : Hiking Gear

Published by Randy And Sheri on 2005/12/6

A warm meal is priceless on long distance hikes. Reliable and lightweight equipment can make food preparation much quicker and easier.

Snow Peak makes wonderful backcountry cooking equipment. We looked at weight and cost when determining our cooking supply needs. The lightweight Snow Peak GS-100A fits into our 2 quart cook pot, saving valuable pack space. The auto ignitor makes for easy start up, and the quick boil time allows you to spend less time cooking and more time eating.

The Snow Peak GS-100A

Giga Power Stove

We work well as a team so we have learned to share one large cook pot. We cook in the pot and then eat out of the pot. This process allows us to save weight, and less dirty dishes that way too!

We will carry the Snow Peak Titanium Cook N' Save.

