

Delaware

Category : States of the ADT

Published by Randy And Sheri on 2006/1/22

The eastern terminus of the American Discovery Trail is in Delaware. Being the First State is just one of the interesting facts about Delaware.....To learn more about the State of Delaware simply click on the highlighted links throughout this article.

To 'Discover' the route of the American Discovery Trail in Delaware click on the ADTS page:
Trail Directory for Delaware.

On the Eastern Seaboard of the United States, Delaware is bordered by the Atlantic Ocean and Delaware Bay, as well as by the states of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Maryland. The State Bird, the Blue Hen, and the State Bug, the Lady Bug, are both part of what makes Delaware a 'Small Wonder'.

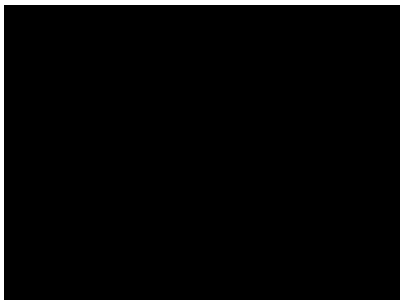

To learn more about the State of Delaware simply click on the highlighted links throughout this article.

The Lady Bug is the Delaware State Bug. To take a closer look at Delaware click:

<http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Delaware>
DELAWARE FACTS AND SYMBOLS

To research general state information click :

To find out more click :

KidsKonnnect.com

. You will also find many fun facts about Delaware at :

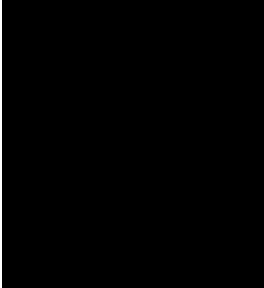

<http://www.50states.com> if you would like to visit Delaware start at the official website of the Delaware tourism office :

<http://www.visitdelaware.net/>

Go right to the source with a visit to the official website for the first state :

<http://www.delaware.gov/>

The Blue Hen is the Delaware State Bird. Take a look at the Topography of Delaware:

<http://www.ngdc.noaa.gov/cgi-bin/mgg/topo/state2.pl?region=de.jpg>