West Virginia Predictions I think Randy and Sheri will enjoy passing through West Virginia. However, there may be a few challenging events as they are traveling considering that the terrain in West Virginia is very rough and montanous. It should be fun and exciting because West Virigina is full of many different animal and plant life that may be appealing to them. I think they will see many bears, deers, and beavers. Also the rivers and lakes in West Virginia are incredible. This should be a very good experience for them both. ■
